REDS CLAIM 26 VILLAGES RECAPTURED

Great German Offensive On Bryansk Rolled Back, Is Report

CLAIM 10,000 NAZIS KILLED, CAPTURED

Russian Infantry Tanks and Artillery Carry Out Pincer Movements

(By Associated Press) MOSCOW, Sept. 13.—The Red army was reported today to have rolled back a great German offensive on Bryansk, 220 miles southwest of Moscow, to have recaptured 26 towns and villages, and inflicted a loss of almost 10,000 Germans in a long, bloody battle. The German drive was reported made by 12 German infantry divisions (about 180,000 men) and two tank corps.

Dispatches said the 47th and 24th German tank corps were routed and estimated that besides nearly 10,000 officers and men, the Germans lost more than 260 tanks, 600 vehicles and hundreds of field guns.

Defeated By Reds

The Germans broke through toward Bryansk, midway on the Kiev-Moscow railway, late in August, according to these reports, but were defeated by a Russian counter-offensive which began 13 days ago.

In the sector about 150 miles northwest of Bryansk, persistent Red army counter-attacks were said to have recaptured Setelovo, a village in the vicinity of Smolensk. Two German regiments were reported broken through in these counter-attacks.

Dispatches from the Bryansk front indicated Russian infantry, artillery, tanks and planes, working in close harmony, were carrying out pincer movements against armored Nazi wedges and destroying them piecemeal.

At the same time an increasing threat to Kiev, capital of the Ukraine, was disclosed in official acknowledgment of the fall of Chernigov.

Add More Strength

Russian war correspondents said the Germans first concentrated three infantry divisions behind the 4th tank corps for the assault in the Bryansk sector, then added another tank corps, considerable air forces and nine more infantry divisions.

But, according to these dispatches, the Germans were thrown back from the approaches to the city to their original positions.

Nazi forces were reported pushed westward from the Desna river by the defenders of the Bryansk sector in a violent battle at the approaches to Trubchevsk, 62 miles southwest of Bryansk.

In the same general zone, however, was the Red army withdrawal from Chernigov.

Will Issue Heavies

COLUMBUS, Sept. 13.—After the thermometer dropped to a seasonal low of 49 degrees here yesterday, fifth corps area officials announced plans to issue woolen clothing to 65,000 soldiers serving in the zone. Distribution will begin Monday. During summer months, soldiers wear lightweight cottons.

Retailers For Defense Week Will Spur Stamp Sales Here

Salem Retail Stores To Aid Government Program To Raise Funds for Defense

Plans moved forward on one large front today for Salem's observance of "Retailers For Defense" week, beginning Monday, in which merchants will formally launch the sale of national defense stamps.

The drive to obtain the funds to aid the nation's defense effort will continue indefinitely although the official observance will extend through Saturday.

A number of merchants will decorate windows to stress their part in the defense program, with the theme, "Retailers for defense."

The defense stamps, in denominations from 25 cents to $5, will be placed on sale in most stores under a nation-wide movement to make the securities available in millions of additional outlets.

The stamps can be purchased for 10, 25 or 50 cents, $1 or $5. An album is given each individual when he or she purchases their first stamp, providing an easy, convenient method to save enough to buy a defense bond.

For instance, an album contain-

TWO ARE INJURED IN AUTO MISHAPS

Youngstown, Canton Cars At Damascus; Struthers Woman Hurt

Two persons received injuries in three district traffic accidents Friday, state highway patrolmen reported.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jewell, 55, of Youngstown, suffered bruises at 2 p. m. when the car in which she was riding with Clarence Gillespie, 33, of Youngstown, was hit on Route 62 at Damascus by another machine driven by Harold Jackson, F. Miller, 35, of Pittsburgh, and Ernest Kunz, 62, of Cleveland.

Automobiles operated by E. L. Tullis, 58, of Rogers, and Mrs. Rhoda Hotchkiss, 60, of Sarasota, Fla., sideswiped on Route 7, just north of Rogers, at 2:45 p. m., bringing injuries to Mrs. Grace Hotchkiss, 32, of Struthers. She was treated by a Columbia physician for lacerations of the face and bruises of the head.

No one was injured in a collision on Route 30, three miles south of Lisbon at noon yesterday, which involved a truck operated by Leon J. Kinzel, 28, of East Liverpool, and machines driven by Mrs. Guy and Maxine Miller, 35, of Pittsburgh, and Ernest Kunz, 62, of Cleveland.

BRITISH LOSE 8 VESSELS IN NAZI ATTACK

British Atlantic Convoy, Majority Saved, Reaches England

VESSELS BATTERED BY RAGING STORM

Weather Attacks by Both German Dive Bombers and Submarines

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Sept. 13.—Battered by two U-boat attacks and an air assault in a raging storm, and just missing a fight with a German surface raider, the bulk of a British convoy in the Atlantic nevertheless reached port with the loss of but eight ships, the admiralty said today.

Three ships of the convoy were sunk by torpedoes and four by bombs. One ship damaged by a bomb later foundered in the gale, it was said.

The admiralty, highly praising the conduct of the men of the convoy, gave credit in large measure for bringing the majority of the craft through the hazardous situation, to Lieut. Commander G. A. Thring, DSO., in command of the senior escort ship.

(The Germans claimed today 31 ships—28 merchant ships of 164,000 tons and three warships—were sunk in the running attack on a convoy of 40 ships.)

Far out at sea the convoy was attacked first by U-boats and two ships were hit and sunk in a few minutes, according to the British account.

The steamer Brandenburg picked up nearly all the men from one of the torpedoed ships, while the sloop Deftford lowered a boat for the rescue of the other crewmen and went to hunt the U-boat. Later the Deftford picked up her boat loaded with survivors from the second torpedoed ship.

An air attack by six four-engine German bombers came 12 hours later. One merchant ship was sunk outright, and two others sank soon. The engine room of a fourth was wrecked and the ship had to be abandoned.

A fifth ship was struck by a bomb, but signalled that she could carry on. Boat crews rescued the survivors of all the bombed ships.

SALEM MAN, DAZED, IS FOUND IN AUTO

LISBON, Sept. 13.—Wilmer D. Johnson, aged about 23, of 915 Morris st., Salem, was found asleep in his roadster on W. Lincoln way at 7 a. m. today and efforts by physicians and others to arouse him failed. A doctor, who was summoned by Roy Lewton, gasoline station operator, said the youth was in an "unnatural sleep."

Johnson mumbled something about getting hurt in Youngstown when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grise, tried to question him.

W. Lincoln way residents reported that the car stopped alongside the curb at about 4 a. m., with the motor racing. The motor continued to run until Lewton shut it off at 7.

PORT CLINTON, Sept. 13.—Common Pleas Judge Fred Wolf of Wauson today promised a decision by next Wednesday in the case of 45 defendants cited for contempt of court for allegedly violating an injunction restraining picketing at the United States Gypsum Co. plant at nearby Gypsum. Hearings were concluded yesterday.

Youngstown Girl Is Chosen Queen For Apple Festival

Wins Title After Spirited Contest Among Dozen Salem And District Beauties

Miss Gloria Virginia Harry, 19, of 338 Canfield road, Youngstown, was chosen queen of the Salem Apple Festival, scheduled for Oct. 2-4, when an elimination contest was held Friday evening at the Memorial building with 14 other girls competing.

The queen's court of four attendants was selected and includes Edna June Feicht, 16-year old Greenford High school student, who was a close second to Miss Harry.

The other attendants will be Betty Jane Roller, Sally Moore and Norma West, all of Salem.

Close to 100 persons witnessed the queen selection last night. Members of the Phalanx fraternity, a Y. M. C. A. affiliate, served as judges. Fifteen ballots were taken before the queen and her court were selected.

SEWERS LEVY UP FOR VOTE

City Council, At Special Meeting, Acts to Put Issue On Ballots

City council at a special meeting Friday night acted to place a one-mill sewer levy on the ballots at the Nov. 4 general election.

The levy, to run for a two-year period, is for the improvement of sewers, including construction and reconstruction and to carry out a general sewer project in the city.

The same proposal was turned down by Salem voters at the August primaries by a narrow margin. In view of the whole-hearted support on the part of most of the voters and due to the fact that the sewer improvements are needed badly, council agreed to re-submit the issue.

The vote last night on the resolution declaring the necessity of the levy was unanimous. The levy assessment amounts to $1 per $1,000 property valuation.

Bus Catches Fire

WEST UNION, Sept. 13.—Forty passengers, most of them soldiers enroute to South Carolina, escaped uninjured when a bus traveling from Cincinnati to Charleston caught fire and was destroyed on Route 125 ten miles west of here last night. Cause of the fire was not determined.

STEP LOOMS AS ANOTHER SHIP IS SUNK

American-Owned Freight-er, Enroute to Iceland, Is Victim

ALL HANDS THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN SAVED

Legislator Thinks Arms Plan Is Only Matter Of Time

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The arming of American merchant ships was described in authoritative quarters today as a step likely to be proposed by the administration, supplementing President Roosevelt's orders to the navy to shoot first at Axis warcraft in American defense waters.

Discussion of such a move intensified with news of the torpedoing of an American-owned freighter carrying lumber to Iceland—an attack which occurred Thursday morning but which was not announced until yesterday.

Only Matter of Time

The arming of merchantmen was reported discussed briefly at a White House conference when President Roosevelt gave congressional leaders a preview of his Thursday night radio address. One legislator said he came away with the impression that it was only a matter of time until the suggestion would be put into effect.

Such a step, it was pointed out, would require a congressional repeal or at least revision of the Neutrality Act, since that law specifically prohibits American commercial vessels from carrying other than small arms.

Another problem would be to obtain the necessary guns, in view of the demand for such weapons by the United States army and navy, and the British.

The latest reported attack on an American-owned vessel took place even before the president told the world that he had ordered the navy to defend shipping against "the rattlesnakes of the Atlantic"—Nazi submarines and raiders.

The state department said the navy had learned that the 1,700-ton freighter Montana, of Panamanian registry and with a foreign crew, had been torpedoed off the coast of Greenland.

All Believed Safe
An airplane—described as not an American aircraft—was reported to have seen the torpedoing and watched the 26-man crew take to lifeboats. The state department said all hands were believed safe.

Few details of the affair were released. Whether the torpedo attack sunk the vessel was undiscovered. Since the ship carried 1,500,000 feet of lumber, consigned to the Icelandic government, there was some speculation here that she might still be afloat.

The Montana, formerly called the Paula, was one of the Danish ships which lay idle for months in American ports before going requisitioned by the maritime commission and placed in operation. The Neutrality Act forbids American ships and sailors from entering war zones, but her registration was transferred to Panama, a

ITALY PREPARING FOR "U. S. ATTACK"

(By Associated Press) ROME, Sept. 13.—Virginia Gayda declared today that the United States had issued a "de facto declaration of war" and Italy and Germany would adjust their war plans to meet what he called a threatened attack by the United States in any part of the world.

(In his sense, Gayda apparently meant a declaration of war actually but without legal status as contrasted with a formal or "de jure" declaration.)

"The world is faced with a de facto declaration of war by the Washington government whose contents are not specified and whose fundamentals are not determined," the authoritative Fascist editor wrote in the newspaper Il Giornale D'Italia.

"While Italy and Germany have sought to fix the limits and conditions of their war, American war-mongering leaves the door open for its war in all parts of the world," he declared of President Roosevelt's shoot-first order to U. S. warcraft in American defensive waters.

"It will be expedient then that the Axis powers revise their positions and adjust their legitimate defense to the plan of the declared American attack."

Fascist observers took for granted American entry into the war.

$7,873 Is County Revenue from Tax

LISBON, Sept. 13.—Columbiana county has received $7,873.99 from the state department as the monthly revenue from sales tax, which is being distributed by County Auditor Ross Tisher to the corporations and townships.

The county was credited with 40 per cent of the amount, or $3,149.60, while the cities and villages receive $3,936.99, and the townships $787.40. The distribution is as follows:

Cities and valleys: East Liverpool, $1,554.61; Salem, $707.83; Wellsville, $539.17; East Palestine, $347.52; Lisbon, $236.91; Columbiana, $165.60; Leetonia, $155.40; Sallenville, $142.14; Washingtonville, $36.58; New Waterford, $32.71; Hanoverton, $19.13, and Rogers $17.99.

Townships participated to the following extent: Liverpool, $68.50; St. Clair, $64.39; Middleton, $45.31; Unity, $60.20; Yellow Creek, $32.21; Madison, $38.99; Elkrun, $36.35; Fairfield, $61.57; Washington, $15.80; Wayne, $12.83; Center, $55.34; Salem, $42.29; Franklin, $19.08; Hanover, $38.16; Butler, $45.20; Perry, $52.39; West, $41.17, and Knox, $56.63.

County Treasurer Glen H. Dawson today received a check for $10,060 from the auditor of state as the quarterly gasoline tax excise fund. The sum has been certified to Auditor Ross Tisher for distribution, the county receiving $2,800 and townships $7,260 for the road and bridge funds. Each township received $400 in the distribution.

THERE'S NOTHING BETTER

The sales talk for defense savings stamps and bonds can be boiled down to one sentence: There's nothing better.

The United States is spending money on its security, which means the security of its citizens. It is buying insurance for their protection.

There are two ways to do this—two ways to pay the insurance premium. One way is to take money outright from the people—taxes. The other way is to borrow the money from the people—securities.

The latter way gives the people a chance to participate in the investment of public funds for security, just as they participate in the profits of private insurance companies. It is a good business deal.

The government has made widespread participation possible by making defense savings stamps available in units so small that they can be purchased out of loose change. As stamps accumulate, they can be traded for bonds.

When the bonds become payable, they can be converted back into cash in the same way that an investment in insurance can be converted into cash when the policy falls due. Defense stamps and bonds thus accomplish two purposes. They enable the investor to help himself by helping his government.

Moreover, while he is saving that part of his money which he invests, the purchaser of the stamps and bonds also is helping to stabilize the value of the rest of his money. By voluntarily converting a part of his current buying power into future buying power, the investor is helping to control the runaway inflation that surely would result from an attempt to convert the swollen income of the defense boom into goods.

The secretary of the treasury, Henry Morgenthau Jr., said in a speech the other night that if the United States handles the money problem of defense like a nation of adult thinkers there will be no morning-after headache. The financial structure of the nation can be kept in balance if the finances of citizens are kept in balance. The first responsibility of each citizen is, therefore, to himself and thereafter to his government. Defense savings stamps and bonds are a part of the solution to the problem of maintaining stability.

The nationwide campaign to promote purchases of savings stamps with the cooperation of retail merchants is a practical project in the exercise of American common sense.

THE FRAGMATIC GERMANS

While it may be and is being said that stepping up British raids on German cities can accomplish nothing more than the Germans accomplished with their furious raids at Britain's expense, perhaps that is enough. Something may be gained.

Germans, famous for their concentration on practical results, have had too little reason to concentrate on the practical results of militancy on the civil front. The anguish they experienced from the blockade in World War I, different only in degree, not in kind, from the anguish of the British due to the same cause, has been the civil population's only contact with modern war.

Even in World War I, the Germans were prepared to inflict brutal punishment on the civilians of France and Great Britain from the air. Their zeppelins and bombers then foreshadowed the tactics they were prepared to tolerate in World War II. Their quick-striking invasions of France and Belgium made those countries the battlegrounds for the land battles. Germany, itself, was untouched. When its generals concluded the war was a stalemate, they simply withdrew their soldiers from foreign soil and began to prepare for World War II, much as they probably will attempt to do when they finally become convinced their current bid for supremacy has been blocked. If in the meantime Germany's civil population has been given abundant reason to realize that war no longer can be fought at a safe distance at the other nation's expense but can be brought inside Germany, perhaps preparations for World War III won't be quite so easy for the militarists to arrange.

ORDER BY TERROR

The note of hope sounded by reports of civil disturbance in France and Norway does not withstand cold analysis. There is scant reason to believe the German invaders cannot subdue resistance with terror as effectively abroad as they subdued it at home. The Gestapo is as integral a part of the Nazi machinery of conquest as the Stuka plane. Reports from occupied countries have told of the secret police moving in not only with the army but actually ahead of it. Their assignment is to make resistance too dangerous to seem feasible.

The Nazi technique of terror is at least as advanced as the Communist technique, to which it is opposed in France and, presumably, in Norway. It was sufficient to restore "order" inside Germany after the Nazis gained control there. Apparently, it has done the same thorough job in Poland, in Yugoslavia, Greece, Belgium, Denmark and the Netherlands. There are no reports of serious civil disturbance from these places.

It is foolish to think Hitlerism can be blocked anywhere by civil resistance. It may not be accepted, but that does not connote failure. Millions never accepted it in Germany, but their opposition was reduced to manageable proportions by application of a technique of terrorism so coldly efficient that it staggers the imagination of humanitarians.

Saving for old age is a commendable thing; but be careful not to hoard it, or even spend all of it before the end.

Almost daily, the alphabetical soup, in Washington, increases, adding one or more to the long list.

THE STARS SAY:

For Sunday, September 14

SUNDAY'S horoscope points to much activity, particularly of a social nature, in the pursuit of pleasure, or in such enterprises as may center around the domestic, artistic or emotional rather than purely commercial life. All these may be expected to move with avidity and enjoyment, with the young under high stimuli for activity. They may be a bit heady in this direction and prone to spectacular and perilous indulgences. Travel and change are shown.

Those whose birthday it is are led to expect a particularly active and exciting year, with all things moving at concert pitch. The home, social, artistic, literary and affectional affairs are stimulated to much initiative, with creature faculties and physical forces turned toward definite success. There is a trend toward the spectacular in all performance, and a hint of "craziness," or being subject to imposition. A child born on this day will have much energy and enterprise, with versatility in many phases of creative work.

For Monday, September 15

MONDAY'S forecast is not an entirely favorable one, although intriguing or peculiar circumstances may add zest to a routine state of affairs. Both business and intimate affairs demand utmost vigilance and sagacity, lest the one suffer from fraud, misrepresentation and trickery, and the other from this element of the strange or bewildering. Sign papers carefully. Make no change without advice of elders.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of the unusual, intriguing or strange, with little promise of outstanding successes, unless something surprising comes to the rescue. This may be intervention from an elder.

A child born on this day may have contradictory elements in its nature, with certain stabilities and merits offset by erratic or strange impulses.

Washington seems to have a hard time realizing that there's no defense of huge non defense expenditures.

A news item in one of our exchanges says: "Superintendent Morgan says modern pupils think better." And he might have added that they'd better think.

Naval Commander of Dutch East Indies Reports Islands Prepared for Invasion

By Vice-Admiral C. E. L. Helfrich, Commander-in-Chief of Naval Forces in the Netherlands East Indies.

BATAVIA, Dutch East Indies—Its striking power increasing daily, the Dutch navy guarding the Netherlands East Indies is ready to meet any threat to these raw material arsenals of the Allies and the United States. Although the Germans now occupy Holland, our Queen and Government carry on the battle from London, the East Indies are free, and the past year has been one of exhaustive preparation in the defense sphere.

In an amazingly short time, the Sourabaya naval base has become a formidable stronghold, and naval production center. The Indies are basically an agricultural country and it was impossible to build shipyards for construction of large men-of-war. Nevertheless, now roaming the Archipelago with unflinching vigilance are patrol boats, mosquito boats, submarine-chasers, mine layers and minesweepers built in the East Indies. For flying boats, seaplanes and larger type ships we are dependent on foreign countries, principally the United States.

Outbreak of the war interrupted plans to construct battle cruisers in the Netherlands shipyards, so our fleet consists only of cruisers, destroyers, submarines and smaller ships and—just as important as any of the other units—the fleet air arm, which we started to build up several years before the war.

In the forefront everywhere in the world is the question of "ship vs. planes." With the development of air power has come the additional query, "Can mastery of the seas be exercised from the air?" I hold that aerial, surface and undersea units should all be used, and that best results will be obtained only through close cooperation between all three services. Planes serve as the eyes of our fleet. But they can be more—its sharp, dangerous claws, tearing at the enemy, destroying his transport ships and weapons and warding off the aggressor until help can arrive. Our fleet and air arms are ready for action.

Within a few hours after the code word "Berlin," signifying outbreak of the war, was flashed from Batavia, all German ships that had taken refuge in our ports were seized before their crews could wreck them, and these ships now are employed in the Allied merchant marine, which includes 3,000,000 tons of Dutch craft.

From that day we intensified the patrol by ships and aircraft, on the alert for Axis raiders and merchantmen, and our training schools for European and native personnel for all defense branches are in full swing. On May 14, 1940, when the Nazis overran Holland, the Netherlands put out to sea. The tide was very low. But who knows better than the people of our islands the profound truth of the time-hallowed saying: "The tide will turn."

Use In Field of Surgery Is Stressed

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
I suppose it is generally agreed by scientists that the greatest engine for storing energy in the world is the green pigment of leaves and grass, chlorophyll. It is the only thing in nature which captures the energy of the sun, saves it up and releases it at some later time.

The sun strikes a green leaf and in some way the chlorophyll separates water and carbon dioxide and preserves them in the plant body. The chemist in his laboratory can do this only with great difficulty.

Weeks, months or years later this energy in the plant body can be used by man and other animals. The sweat we eat, the hay the cat eats are transformed into the energy of life. Coal and oil when used in engines are simply releasing the energy stored by plants in this way years or centuries ago.

Salts of Chlorophyll
It is curious that chlorophyll has never been used very much in medicine. Salts of chlorophyll can

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
L. G. M.: 1. "What is meant by subnormal temperature and is it dangerous?" 2. "And is it injurious to your health to wear a corset?"

Answer: 1. Subnormal temperature is a temperature below 98.6 degrees F. It indicates a somewhat subnormal condition of vitality which may be due to stopped stomach or a poor posture, but it is not dangerous. 2. A corset is of great benefit to the health of a number of people with dropped stomach and poor abdominal muscles.

PUPPET LOVE by Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr.

CHAPTER TWENTY

Eunice's sophisticated eyebrows climbed as Nicky recounted the puppet show engagements, their present booking. "We're doing Dorothy Wendworth's Vanity Fair at the place in the Pines in two weeks—the first of August. Then Savannah—Tampa. My business manager attends to all that."

"Business manager? Who? Where?"

"In that other trailer. You must have noticed, a peculiar hybrid affair, but it gets around. He's nice. Chris Allen—terribly efficient."

"Is it his efficiency makes you see like that when you talk about him?"

"I didn't glow," Nicky denied as her waves climbed her throat and cheeks.

"Whatever you did, it's frightfully becoming. Does Rodney know about the manager? Is that in harmony?" According to number—

"It isn't all worked on a chart," Nicky began, when a gray-clad figure stopped at the door. Eunice sprang up.

"Yes, James, were you looking for me? I must dash. Nicky, we haven't made our three hundred million today and we have to get on. It's been too much fun. But I do wish," she added glancing back, as she minced down the narrow steps, "I could have seen the show."

It was still raining, two hours later, when Chris and Nicky faced each other across the small table in the dining room of the Hotel Dixie—American plan—rates day or week. The table was larger than the average aux deux and, even before they ordered, contained dishes of cold-slaw, piccalilli, yellow tomato preserve, sweet and sour pickles, hot biscuits, and corn bread.

"I don't know how you could have slept so soundly," Nicky said crossly, as she selected a pale gold biscuit. "In all these weeks, I've never known you to sleep during the day—even those times you drove all night."

"Perhaps it was the heat," Chris murmured contritely. Then, as often happened when he looked at Nicky, he wondered whether she was more attractive in the slacks, sailor collared blouses, with a scarf pirate fashion around her head, or in linen dress and softly feminine hat.

"You could have seen a genuine deb whose debbing cost $50,000, and whose brother can afford to marry anybody!" she snorted. "And that trailer! And the footman, and the chauffeur!"

While Nicky ate and chatted with a kind of angry haste, Bishop's mind churned. If Nicky was to learn the truth from Eunice, he'd be through. And in another four weeks, he'd be modestly independent, free of his family. Then he could tell her himself—ask her—

Across the dining room, that was net-draped and hummed with electric fans, came the hotel keeper, a plump, pretty woman who discounted praise of her cuisine.

"Doan' you folks hurry off," the hostess urged. "Just set a while." The rain had decreased to a warm steady patter, that raised an earth and flower-drencher fragrance, and enveloped the square in misty charm.

"Suppose we do—set a while," Chris suggested, standing at the porch rail. "We don't have to get on. If there is no objection to parking the trailers in the square, we can stay for the night."

They drew chairs to the far end of the porch and settled to peace and quiet. Somewhere a radio played pleasantly and not too loud. The fear of the afternoon did away from Chris. Eunice was gone, rushing on through the warm night making up the deficit in their millage. For the first time, he really believed in his own luck.

It may have been many, or only a few, moments later when an elderly darky came shuffling across the lawn and, with a sweep of his battered hat to Nicky, and a flashing white-toothed smile that was his most distinguishing feature in the dark, addressed them.

"Ah enjoyed yore show dis afternoon—de first free show dat's come by here in many a day—an' I thought you might lak to know, dere's anudder tonight. Fiv' miles down de highway at the trailer camp."

Chris and Nicky leaned over the porch rail. "A real show—or like ours?" Nicky asked.

"Noin, no, precisely. It's sort ob a medicine show, wid a gol' horn, a big gol' horn. I don't know what dere sellin' becaz I had to sit me back to my job ob work. Taint' nothin' ob it, an' I thought mebbe you'd lak to look at it."

"Would you?" they thanked him in chorus, and he bowed to them as Chris slipped him a whole dollar bill.

The directions were accurate. In less than ten minutes, Chris slid his car to the side of the road and, hand in hand, they ran through a grove from which fast, hot music was coming. A glare of light accompanied the sound.

The next instant they were in the hard white circle of an enormous spot. Before them was the gray trailer, ablaze with its own electricity. Comfortably settled in a lounge chair, with fine disregard of all spectators, sat an elegant, slightly overblown, elderly woman, slipping her after-dinner coffee.

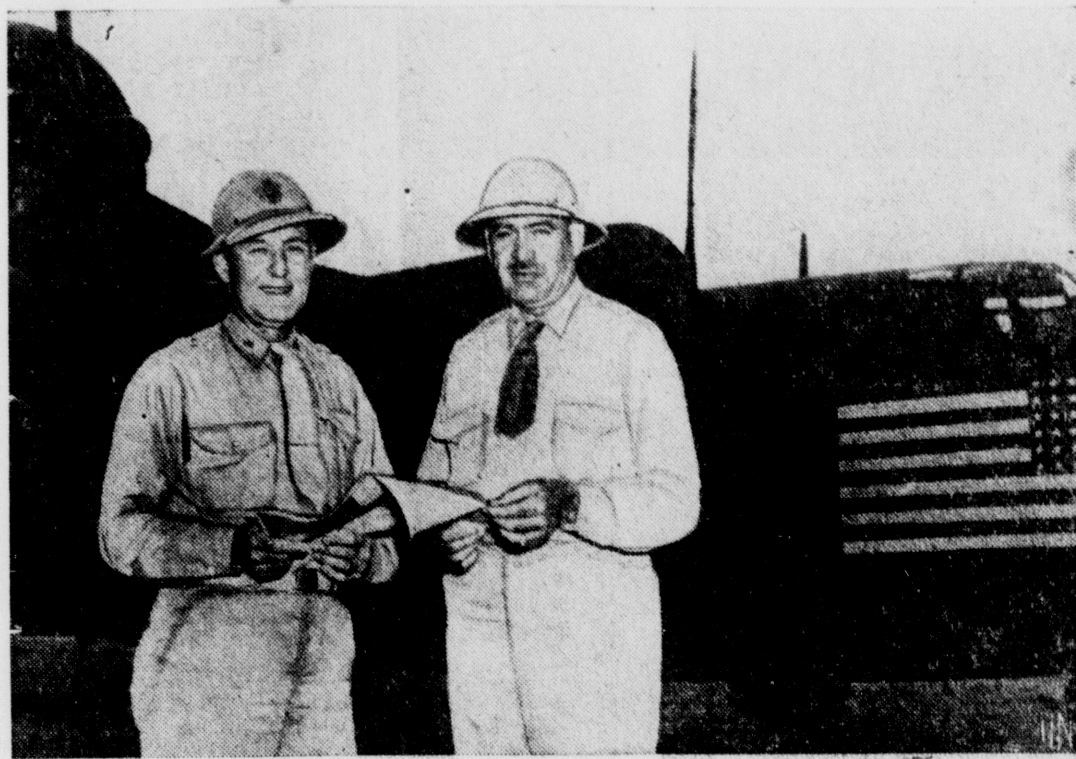

In a semi-circle before her ranged the chauffeur, footman, house boy and chief playing piano-accordion, saxophone, guitar, and clarinet. Two of them added vocal bits.

"Trailer trousters!" exclaimed Nicky. "It's the Baddington Grants!"

"Let's seram!" gasped Chris, grabbing her arm. Nicky started to protest, when a cool voice from the shadows asked: "You wouldn't run away, would you?"

Chris wondered how long was a second. There was a bit of twelve inches difference between his height and Eunice's, but he felt

BUILD

Don't let people talk you out of building! Prices have advanced on some materials, yes, but nothing to be alarmed about. A home built now won't cost over $200 or $300 more than last year, and if you check your earnings, you will find you have increased them more than that. If you wait until later, both material and wages will probably go down and you will be no farther ahead in the price of your home and also be out the rent you have paid in the meantime. We have not experienced much shortage in materials as yet. Right now we can furnish you all the materials you might need except lumber. Our stock is complete in steel angles, windows, cement, sand, gravel, Rocklath, plaster, roofing, builders' hardware, insulation, lime, insulation board, tile, limestone block, nails, arches, corner beads, metal lathe, etc. Please keep us in mind and see us before building. Doris Hum And Clair R. King Set Wedding Date For Oct. 22

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hum, Columbiana, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris, to Clair R. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. King of Salem. The open church wedding will take place Sunday, Oct. 12, in the Grace Reformed church at Columbiana with Rev. Stanley L. Fritz officiating and Rev. W. R. Gougeon, pastor of the church at Columbiana, assisting.

Missionary Society Has Program

The Alice Dennis Missionary society of the Holy Trinity Lutheran church met last evening at the church and observed guest night. Feature of the evening was a talk by Mrs. Raymond Bush of Sebring, a missionary who has returned from Africa. She spoke of her work in teaching and evangelistic work there for 15 years.

She had various costumes and curios and pictures in relation to her life spent there. Mrs. J. A. Fehr was in charge of the devotionals. The musical program consisted of two vocal numbers by Mrs. J. Herbert Yengling, "There is a Beautiful Land on High" and "Are Ye Able," was accompanied by Mrs. Homer Taylor.

A viola and violin duet was given by Deborah and Priscilla Beery, whose selection was "Duo No. 1 Opus 8." They were accompanied by Miss Hilda Franke.

Tea was served, with Mrs. E. A. Hoch presiding. The table was attractively appointed with a lace cloth and a centerpiece of pastel shades of flowers and ivory colored candles.

Columbiana. Tiny scrolls inscribed with "Doris and Clair, Oct. 12," were tucked into dainty flower basket favors. Dainty pink tapers in crystal holders decorated the tables.

Monte Carlo Whist was the evening's entertainment, prizes being awarded to Misses Helen Eckert and Katherine Fuhrman. A lovely gold-engraved white wedding and engagement book was given the bride-to-be by the hostess. Out of town guests were Mrs. Frederik Daugherty, Jr., Canton; Miss Rebecca Cavanaugh, Warren; Miss Jerry Difford, Warren; Miss Ruth Rothrock, Alliance; Mrs. W. D. King and Marybeth King of Salem.

Miss Hum is a graduate of Heidelberg college where she was May queen in 1940. She is a member of the Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity, and was prominent in the affairs of her sorority. During the past year she taught home economics at Alliance High school.

Mr. King is a graduate of Wittenberg college where he was a filiated with Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, and Phi Mu Alpha, national professional music fraternity. He has been music supervisor for Columbiana schools for the last three years.

Miss Sue Herman Is Honored

Miss Sue Herman of Wilson st. was honored with a birthday party in honor of her 19th anniversary last night at her home. The event was planned by Mrs. Herman and Miss Minnie Grell. The honoree received many gifts. "Bunko" prizes went to Loretta Bodendorf, Dorothy Meltschka and Mary Untch. Lunch was served at a table at which the cake and flowers served as centerpiece.

Marriage licenses have been issued at Lisbon to: Steve Karmal, handy man, and Velma Shores, Salem.

Joseph Ciani, railroad worker, and Anita Potts, Wellsville.

Floyd E. McKinnon, mill worker, Smith's Ferry, Pa., and Millie E. Duncan, East Liverpool.

Meeting Postponed

Mary Carr Curtis Missionary society has postponed its meeting scheduled for Monday evening, due to the illness of various members. The meeting will be held Monday, Sept. 22, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Dean of E. Seventh st.

Mrs. Clyde Beck has returned home after spending the past week visiting with her daughter, Mrs. R. S. Budney, and family of Clyde, O.

Carl Heim of Detroit, has been called home due to the serious illness of his mother, who is at her home on 198 E. State st.

Plenty of Apples For Ohioans Loom

COLUMBUS, Sept. 13 — There will be plenty of nice big Ohio-grown apples for you this winter.

The federal-state crop reporting service said today that on the basis of Sept. 1 conditions, a bumper crop of 7,526,000 bushels probably would be harvested. This is 2,452,000 greater than last year's yield.

Other fruit crops, save grapes, will top 1940. The service predicted. A yield of 1,503,000 bushels of peaches was expected, compared with only 443,000 bushels last year. The year harvest was out at 996,000 bushels against 816,000 a year ago. Grapes likely will come to about 29,100 tons, 8,400 under 1940.

The outlook for corn, wheat and other field crops generally is favorable, August rains making up for an earlier moisture deficiency, the report said. The estimated corn production was 152,844,000 bushels, a bit under the 159,348,000 estimate of Aug. 1 but still 25 per cent above last year's crop.

Winter wheat was estimated at 49,700,000 bushels, nearly 7,000,000 above last year.

Indicated production of other Ohio crops on Sept. 1 with 1940 yields included:

Winter wheat, 49,700,000 bushels in 1941 and 42,637,000 in 1940; oats, 49,987,000 and 44,889,000; barley, 1,198,000 and 1,650,000; rye, 1,538,000 and 1,693,000; soybeans, 12,160,000 and 8,400,000; sugar beets, 333,700 tons and 375,000; tame hay, 3,578,000 tons and 4,241,000; potatoes, 11,960,000 bushels and 11,800,000; burley tobacco, 10,938,000 pounds and 12,500,000; cigar filler tobacco, 13,800,000 pounds and 15,878,000.

Columbiana Church Unit Hear: Missionary Talk

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 13.—Women's Society of Christian Service met at the Methodist church with Miss Edith Moore, a missionary from India, as guest speaker. Mrs. P. H. Wood led group singing and Rev. Wood sang a solo, "In the Secret of His Presence," written by an Indian woman.

The social hour was enjoyed at the parsonage in charge of Mrs. George Seiderly. Mrs. J. J. Martin and Mrs. Wood. Several guests were present. Revival services will start Sept. 21 at the Methodist church. N. B. "Jack" Vandall of Akron will assist with the music.

A series of Sunday evening meetings are being held at Grace Reformed church, called Tuxis meetings, meaning "You and I with Christ in the Center."

Senior and Junior Luther leagues will enjoy a fellowship supper Sunday at 5:30 p. m. The speaker will be Rev. Arden Surbey of Petersburg. Miss Helen Simpson will lead devotionals and Leland Lipp will

NEW BLACK DRESSES ARE SMART AND FLATTERING

Left, rayon crepe dress; center, Boldini beret worn with black dress which has detachable sleeves; right, black frock with pleated peplum front.

If you have not purchased your little black dress for the first autumn meetings in town, you should do it now. There are frocks with tunics, peplums and tiers, but all have lower waistlines and the hipline accentuated. Left, is a Sagson dress with softly bloused top and slim skirt. The top has long, full sleeves with deep, tight fitting cuffs and metal buttons fasten the cuffs and march down the front of the bodice. The dress is made of fine rayon crepe. The Boldini beret by Lilly Dache, center, is black felt, molded close in back, sitting firmly forward on the head. It complements a basic black dress which has a new note in the detachable sleeves made of looped black and golden sherry felt stripes. Elise Knox, right, has a new fall dress of heavy black rayon crepe trimmed with daisy-shaped pearl buttons. It has fullness above the waist and slimmness below, with the larger armholes and pleated peplum in front. With it is worn a small black velvet off-the-face hat.

Salvation Army To Install Officers

There will be a public installation of officers of the Torchbearers club of the Salvation Army during the young people's service Sunday afternoon at 3.

Services In Our Churches

Rev. Bauman Title To Be "Scriptural Evangelism" Sunday

Divine worship services at the Emmanuel American Lutheran church will be held at 10 a. m. Sunday when Rev. Bauman preaches on "Scriptural Evangelism."

It is said: "Putting off things is folly." But of all human follies there can none worse be found than that of putting God off. Plainly, seriously, frequently He urges, exerts, yes commands—Come to church.

German service at 11 a. m.

A Most Valuable Virtue

Patience—Do not get patience mixed up with weakness, indifference or sloth. Some men endure evils because they are too lazy, too unresponsive, or too cowardly to take steps against them. Such sorry attitudes should never be confused with patience. Real patience is one of the noblest and most Christian of virtues.

Meeting patiently our fellowmen with all their irritating and varied spirits paves the way to marvelous victories. Oft some need to be most patient with themselves. We see so many places where we fail and fall short. We realize then better than any other mortal soul.

If we are honestly doing our level best, then we have no right and can reap no good by being impatient. Nothing can bring us closer to God than this quality of patience. That puts us in tune with eternity. It leads us to follow the long-suffering steps of God in history. It makes us forgiving, hopeful and cheerful.

Endurance is a God-given characteristic which the Word of God helps us truly to cultivate. In Luke 21:19 the Lord assures us: "In your patience you win your souls."

The royal road to this strong power is persistent prayer. Never consider your Christianity complete without patience plainly showing itself in your life.

Christians Attend County Conclave At Columbiana Sunday

Sunday morning worship at the Christian church will be held at 10:30 when Rev. C. F. Evans will speak on the subject "This Business of Serving the Lord." The service will be shortened so our people can attend a county meeting of Christian churches at Firestone park, Columbiana. A basket lunch will be held at 1 o'clock.

At 2:30 p. m. county communion service for various Christian churches will be held at Firestone park. The service will be held in the park stadium. In case of rain it will be held in the Columbiana High school auditorium. Rev. Eugene C. Beach, minister of the First Christian church, Youngstown, will be the principal speaker. Various ministers of the county will have part in the communion service.

"Modern Perils" Is Trinity Sermon For Sunday Services

"Modern Perils" is the title of the sermon to be given by Rev. George Keister at the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church on Sunday at 11.

No one dare deny that the perils of life are real and serious. Modern civilization seems seriously threatened. The religious foundations of present-day faith and life are assailed. A spirit of materialism is spreading among many people. Shallow and superficial religious convictions are accepted as sufficient. We must not be dumb to these dangers.

Soviet Aerial Bombardment—by Shadows

Approved by the Moscow government, this radiophoto shows a plane of the Soviet air force shadowed on the ground far below as it drops deadly bombs on what is described as German artillery positions at "N." Puffs of smoke at lower right of picture indicate spots where bombs have exploded. Three bombs are hurtling to the earth at left.

Mt. Union Plans Evening Courses

Mount Union college will offer six evening courses in as many fields of study at the opening of the 96th year on Sept. 15. Three of these courses will be taught on Tuesday from 6:30 until 8:10 and three will meet on Thursday evenings at the same hour.

Courses in art, genetics, secondary education, English novel, debate, and religion will be offered to both those who wish to have college credit and to others who wish to carry the courses as a result of personal interest.

Professor George Cribbs will teach the course on history of art which will take up the study of architecture, sculpture, painting and the minor arts from the Egyptians and Greeks to the present day. Illustrations by lantern slides and reproductions of famous works of art, this course will be opened to all who wish to enter into the beginning study of art and its appreciation.

J. W. Gummel, head of the Mount Union college speech and dramatics division, will teach the principles of effective debating and will direct debates of the group on various questions in addition to outlining debate strategy, briefs, and the main points of public discussion in his course entitled, "Debate."

Dr. Harley Zeigler, associate professor of religion at the college, will teach a course entitled, "The Life of Jesus," which will include an interpretation of the basic events in Jesus' life from his birth to his resurrection.

Dr. Joseph M. Scott, head of the department of biology, will teach a course in genetics which will include an advance study of biological theory and a study of organic evolution, anthropology, and human heredity.

Dr. E. A. Eckler, head of the department of English, will teach the structure and the types of English prose fiction in his course on English novel. Students in this class will study the development of the English novel and will read novels of the 18th and 19th centuries as a part of their study.

Dr. B. F. Stanton, associate professor of education, superintendent of Alliance schools, will direct the study of secondary education which will include both the junior, and senior high school movements. The methods, organizations, and relation of secondary education to the whole educational structure will be considered in this course to be taught by Dr. Stanton.

Registration in the evening courses at the college will close on Sept. 25th. Advance indications are that there is more interest in the evening study for this fall than there has been shown during the past several years, according to Miss Verna Lower, registrar.

RAVENNA—This city saved $900 when LaVerne L. Jones and J. R. Chapman flipped a coin. Both were Republican candidates for city council from the same ward. This was the only contest in a pending primary election. So Jones and Chapman agreed to take their chances on the turn of a coin.

Chapman won, and the city saved $900, the cost of an election.

POSSIBILITY THAT BROOKS OR CARDS WIN SOON IS OUT

Present Series Shatters All Hopes That Contest Will Be Concluded Shortly

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The sensation-saturated series between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the St. Louis Cardinals, even before it strikes its highest pitch today, has shattered every possibility of deciding the National league race until the final days of the season.

Neither team is great, but both are dead game and capable of carrying their neck-and-neck fight right down to the finish line two weeks from tomorrow.

In fact, the prospect of a tie is so plausible that President Ford Frick called a meeting with the two club presidents for today to map plans for a post-season playoff, just in case.

Whatever chance there was for an early settlement was wrapped up in the Dodgers, who attained a two-game lead by capturing the opening tussle Thursday, 6-4, in 11 innings. But the feat of the Cardinals in crashing back to a 4-3 triumph yesterday quickly ended this sort of speculation.

The standings now:

Brooklyn . . . 89 50 640
St. Louis . . . 97 50 635

Cards Could Take First

By winning today's grand finale the Cardinals could take over first place by two percentage points, even though they only would be tied in won-lost reckoning. Yet no matter which team takes this crucial contest, the day for clinching the pennant is a long way off.

If they both win on the same days, or lose on the same days, after parting company in St. Louis, it will be no trick at all to stretch the struggle right up to Sept. 28, the season's end.

Having tried lefties, in dividing the first two games of the set, by pitching Southpaws Ernie White, Howard Pollet and Max Lanier, the Cardinal pilot turned right for the finale—to Morton Cooper, with a record of 13 victories and six defeats.

Leo Durocher, Brooklyn manager, selected his ace, 19-game winner, Whitlow Wyatt, who has been beaten ten times.

Yanks Lose Keller

Meanwhile, the New York Yankees, already installed as the American league champs, learned that Charley Keller had chipped a bone in his ankle and probably would be lost for the World Series. His absence did not prevent them from blasting the Detroit Tigers, 9-2.

The Boston Red Sox shut out the St. Louis Browns, 5-0, on Joe Dobson's five-hit hurling, and Johnny Humphries allowed only four as the Chicago White Sox whipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-0. Washington downed Cleveland, 7-4.

In the other National league engagements the Phillies stopped the Chicago Cubs, 5-3; Elmer Riddle pitched and batted the Cincinnati Reds to an 8-4 triumph over the New York Giants, and the Boston Braves divided another double-header at Pittsburgh, winning 5-0 after the Pirates took the opener, 6-3.

GRIDDERS LOSE TO LEETONIA HI, 12-6

Practice Scrimmage Shows Inexperience Against a Veteran Eleven

Stumped by Stumpo and 12 other Leetonia lettermen, the Salem football team went down to defeat in a practice scrimmage last night, 12-6.

The Salem team was thoroughly outclassed by the visitors, one of the best teams ever produced by Leetonia High. Practically all was untidiness and a masterful pass by a High school griddier. Another pass, Cozad to Entenken, was completed for a sizeable gain.

Scullion scored the Salem touchdown after Guapone blocked a Leetonia kick on the 12 yard line.

The Leetonia touchdowns were taken care of by Stumpo on a charge through the line, and by Frank who got the ball from Oliver on a lateral after Stumpo had passed.

CANSO, N. B.—After fighting through the Boer war, Harry Hawes of Canso started for home with a kit bag containing a letter from his brother Almon. Somehow the bag became lost. BOWLING RESULTS

The Sanitary Foremen last night won three straight from the K. of C. as Federal league bowling opened at the Masonic alleys. The Sanitary Shoppers failed to duplicate the feat of their fellow workmen as they suffered a 2-1 defeat at the hands of Sheen's service.

The Eagles, led by Fritz Brantsch's 550, took three straight games from Beeler's Sohioans while Meissner's beat the Brownies, 2-1.

The Grate Ladies league got under way last night with AAA trimming Kaufman's in three straight, Eagles No. 2 did the same with the Hi Ho's of Leetonia. Schwartz's trimmed Endres-Gross in two-out-of-three, the defending champion of Ford V-8's took two from the Trades Class.

The Ladies league scores will not count in final standings, however, and will be used only to apportion handicaps for the season.

Will Attempt Fourth Win Over Salem This Season

Visitors from Alliance this week-end include the following: (Left to right) Roy Fryan, Ray Murphy, Bill Lewis, Owen Lewis and Merrick Lewis. The gentlemen will be visitors at a polo game at Coy Field. As a matter of fact, they'll be in it.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Well, "Our Bums" (spoken with affection) have become "dem bums" again and today probably will decide which will be permanent.

Ford Frick must have collected a few tips from a good fight referee on how to go about that speech he made to the managers and the umpires before the game.

With Keller and Rolfe out, the Yankees won't have such a breeze against the National leaguers as their supporters had been expecting.

If H. Elmer Starn of Kent State isn't losing any sleep because of bugle calls.

Even though two more of his stars have been ordered to report for induction this month, Starn still has nearly two full teams of experienced players from last year's squad that almost copped the Ohio conference title.

Stan Drongowski, a two-year veteran, and Ed Biasella, a junior pass tippler, will answer the call to colors later this month, Starn said, making six men the Golden Flashes have contributed to the armed forces.

As most other Ohio colleges worried about the lure of defense jobs or depleted squads, a note of cheer was heard at Tiffin when Fenton Wolfe of Upper Sandusky was reported fit and ready for service with the Heidelberg Princes. Benchmarked by a knee injury last season, Wolfe is showing top form in early practice sessions.

Tunney Will Speak
AKRON, Sept. 13.—Gene Tunney, retired world heavyweight boxing champion, will deliver a short talk before the evening concert of the United States Navy band at the rubber bowl here Sept. 24, the Chamber of Commerce said today.

Tunney is now a lieutenant commander in the naval reserve as coordinator of physical education.

REAL ESTATE

REAL ESTATE

HERE IS AN IDEAL COUNTRY HOME!

This property is located on Route 14 and has a grand modern house of 10 rooms. New two-car garage and nice new basement barn. Also, 20 acres of land with a variety of fruit. This has a grand setting with a beautiful lawn and abundance of shade and shrubbery. This is like one of your old country estates. It could be used for several purposes. Would be grand for a convalescent home, splendid poultry and fruit farm. The produce could be sold right at your door and would bring retail prices.

I really cannot say enough for this property as I think it is one of the nicest places between Salem and Cleveland. Now if you are interested in this property, it will be necessary for you to arrange an appointment with me as the owner does not care to bother showing the property. We have it for sale and it is our work to show the property. Is priced way below what the cost of building this house would be.

POLO TEAM WILL MEET ALLIANCE IN LEAGUE CONTEST

Visitors Have Won Three Of Five Games With Salem This Season

Polo, pulchritude, and prize—these will be the attractions at Coy Field Sunday when the Salem polo team: (1) plays Alliance; (2) hosts the Queen of the Salem Apple festival; (3) concludes the third annual Salem polo club horse show.

The polo game, feature of the variety show sponsored weekly by Wade Loop, polo club business manager, will see the Salem riders try to even up the score in games this season with their traditional foe, Alliance. The visitors have won three out of five games this season against Salem.

The apple queen, who will pull up to the gaming turf in an automobile, will be attended by her court, Miss Gloria Virginia Harry of Youngstown, for such is her name and locale, will be presented to the crowd before the game starts.

The seven-event horse show will get under way before game-time and will be concluded at the intermission. Ever's listed include: Polo class start, turn, and stop barrel time test, to be run prior to the first chukker; Ladies' riding horse class, three gait; Men's riding horse class, three gait. Open class riding for couples; second half of polo game.

The events are open to all riders within 50 miles of Salem and several prizes and ribbons will be awarded in each event. Judging, to be done by Harry Fitzpatrick of Youngstown, will be based on the form and ability of the rider and the conformation of the horse.

Jim Pidgeon and Pete Votaw are expected to lead the Salem scoring with Ray Moft, Willie Smith, and Tony Sheen playing an active part in the contest. All of the Salem riders have been brushing up in scrimmages this week. In addition they led a 17-hour aggregation from the Salem polo barns to the Columbiana county fair at Lisbon where they staged a draw under the leadership of Pete Votaw.

N. MEXICO FIGHTS MYTHICAL ENEMIES

Nation's First Large Scale Experiment Is Called Successful

(By Associated Press)
SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 13.—The nation's first large-scale experiment in mobilizing civilian defense against air attack was played in grim earnest last night by New Mexico's 530,000 population, and earned a "well done" today from state and military officials.

Over all the great reaches of plains and mountains, the state blacked out with an effectiveness and enthusiasm which had army bombers, simulating the attackers fumbling in the darkness and often missing objectives and cities entirely.

Volunteers on "War Duty"
Thousands of guardsmen and volunteer defense workers did "war duty" in some 70 towns and cities, whose streets were dark and silent during blackout periods which ran as long as an hour and a half.

"The results were highly satisfactory," commented Gov. John E. Miles.

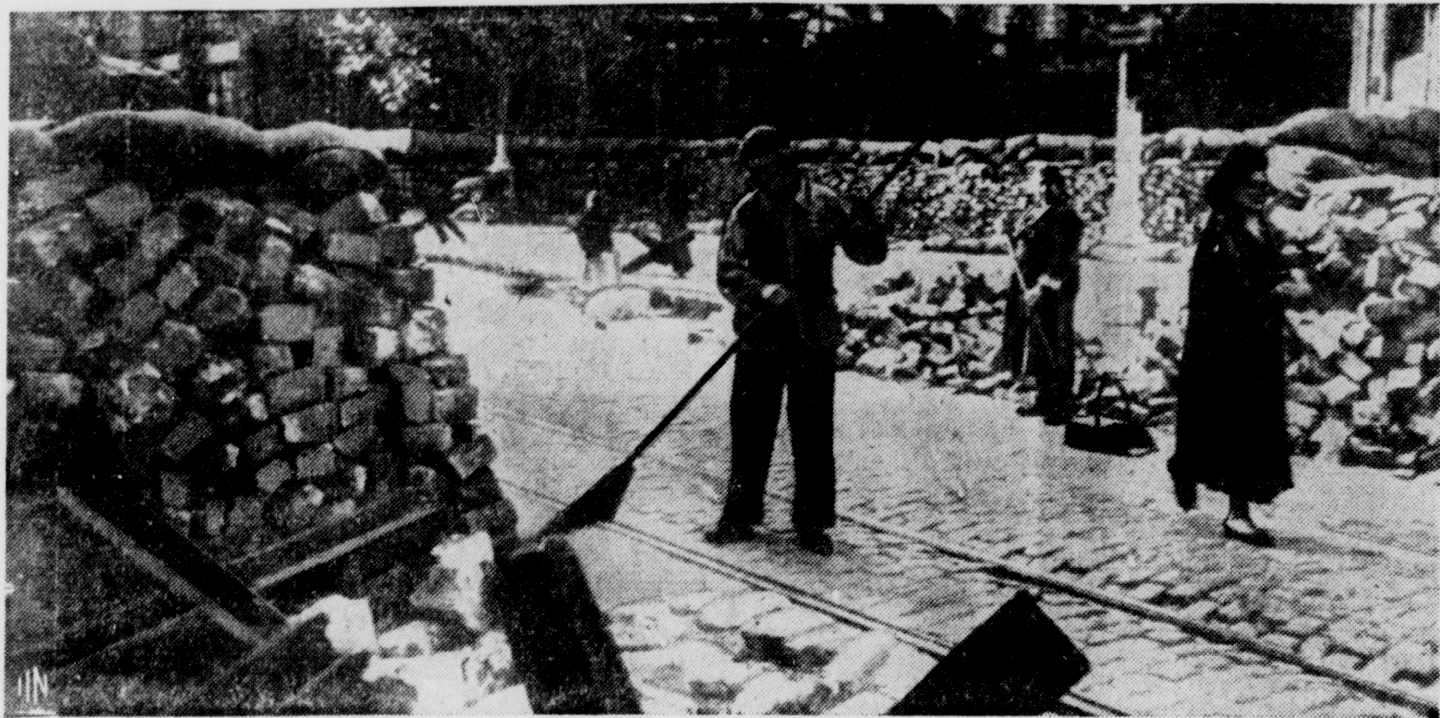

Most striking, however, was the earnestness with which the population observed its mock wartime requirements over New Mexico's 122,503 square miles—an area twice that of England.

In Albuquerque, an electric sign inadvertently left on by a store owner was stoned by crowds of youths until police intervened. Raid wardens unconcernedly cut the wires to quench lights in the window of another store.

Governor "Kidnaped"
Governor Miles, participating as the head of state, allowed himself to be kidnaped by "fifth columnists" and whisked away in an automobile, later to be rescued by state police.

Reds Prepare Odessa for Street by Street Defense

According to the official Soviet caption with this photo, which was flashed by radio from Moscow to New York, citizens of Odessa are shown cleaning up after erecting barricades and shelters of all kinds in the streets of Odessa. In this Black Sea port, as in Leningrad, the Russians are reported ready to battle the invading Nazis foot by foot. Odessa is encircled on land by the German army.

Plans Ministerial Training

Louis Raymond, Jr., who has filled the pulpit at the Leetonia St. Paul's Lutheran church for the past several months will preach his farewell message Sunday morning on the subject "A Crown With Stars." Raymond, who has been filling district pulpits for last eight months, will begin ministerial training at Grove City, Pa., next week.

There will be no 7:30 service at the New Albany Community church Sunday evening, which has been under Raymond's direction for the last eight months.

Army Plane Circles City
A low-flying Army plane attracted considerable attention when it circled the city shortly before 5:30 p. m. Friday. The ship was flying so low that its circled star and other army insignia were plainly visible.

Attendees at Miller airport at North Benton said that they understood the plane was one used in training purposes at the Akron airport. The previous day an army official took the plane for an observation trip over the Ravenna arsenal.

Win Bridge Honors

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Mathias of 1835 E. State st., playing in the eastern Ohio bridge tournament last night at Youngstown, won the mixed pair honors. The event, which is attracting participants from Akron, Cleveland, Youngstown and other district cities, will continue through Sunday.

Collision Is Fatal

WAPAKONETA, Sept. 13.—A train-auto collision at nearby Buckland killed Miss Genevieve Wright, 19, of Lima. Her mother, Mrs. Clara Wright, was thrown from the car and escaped serious injury.

Young People To Meet

The young people of Locust Grove Baptist church near Greenford will be guests of the Salem Baptist young people at 6:30 p. m. Sunday at the church. Following the evening service there will be a fellowship hour at the pastor's home. All young people are welcome.

Fire At Factory

Slight damage was caused by a fire in the basement at the Deming plant at 10:45 p. m. Friday which destroyed several wooden boxes. Firemen were called although a sprinkler system helped check the spread of the blaze.

Addresses Club

W. H. Matthews of N. Union ave. addressed members of the Youngstown Kiwanis club yesterday on the topic, "Ohio," a talk dealing with geography, geology, topography and soils.

Buys 4-H Club Beef

Prized 4-H club cattle at the Muskingum county fair and the Wayne county fair has been purchased by J. Brooke Votaw of Votaw's meat market.

Ohioan Is Drowned

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 13.—E. W. Higgenbottom, about 50, of Belmont, O., was drowned in nearby Lake Hamilton when a motorboat capsized. Three other members of the vacationing party were rescued.

Big Rally Planned For Fruit Growers

Fruit growers in this sector of northeastern Ohio's great apple producing area will have an opportunity to study their own personal technical problems as well as gain plenty of enjoyment from the forthcoming Salem Apple Festival, Oct. 2, 3, and 4.

That fact became clear today when plans were announced for an outstanding horticultural meeting to be held in Salem on the opening evening of the festival. Actual place and hour of the gathering will be announced later.

Arranged by County Agents J. C. Hedge of Mahoning county and Floyd Lower of Columbiana, assisted by a committee of fruit growers, the meeting will be one of the largest of its kind ever held in this area. Growers throughout northeastern Ohio are being invited to attend.

J. H. Gourley to Speak
J. H. Gourley, chief of the horticultural department of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station at Wooster, and well known to orchardists, will be the chief speaker. In addition to his talk, a well rounded program of entertainment and discussion will be presented.

This meeting will be one of many attractions for practical orchardists provided by the festival. Of prime interest in the display section in the Salem business district will be one of the largest competitive apple shows ever held in this area, with a total of $196 in premiums being offered.

In addition, there will be grading demonstrations, variety contests and many other events.

One of the most comprehensive advertising programs ever undertaken for a similar event is being launched in behalf of the apple festival.

No point is being over-looked in calling the attention of residents of this section of Ohio to this event.

For instance, every newspaper in Columbiana and Mahoning counties, as well as in certain Stark county cities, will carry advertisements on the festival, pointing out its many attractions.

In addition, more than 1,000 big window cards are being distributed throughout this area, catching the eye of passersby from store windows and other points of vantage.

"Good Will" Truck Ready

A unique "good will" truck, loaded down with delicious Columbiana and Mahoning county apples, which will visit every town within a 30-mile radius of Salem, giving away apples and inviting visitors to the festival. In addition to the fruit, the truck will carry a band, it will be gayly decorated, and plans are being made to have the Apple Queen stop in each city and town and personally extend invitations to mayors and city officials to attend the event.

SPEED UP EXPORTS TO LATIN AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—A giant clearing house designed to coordinate the potential production of thousands of small manufacturers in the United States in an effort to break a critical bottleneck in exports to Latin America will be opened Monday by the department of commerce.

Viewed as the first step in an administration program to assure essential imports for the other 29 hemisphere republics, the new set-up puts commerce department specialists in key manufacturing cities here and United States consular corps and commercial attaches in the other republics at the task of bringing together Latin American buyers and North American sellers.

Export specialists drafted by the department for "the duration" have received special training in Washington and have been assigned to the department's regional and district offices over the nation.

The first goal is to clear up the present backlog of unfilled orders. The new system, carrying the approval of Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, is designed to spread out among small manufacturers, whose production is not being utilized by the defense program, an estimated backlog of $97,000,000 worth of Latin American orders.

Try the Classifieds—a gold mine of values for the thrifty buyer.

foreign crew was signed, and she was put in service carrying supplies to Britain and Britain's allies. Speculation on the effects of the President's address continued to hold the attention of congress.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee commented that he "hoped there would be no shooting" as a result of the President's orders, but he added: "we do not propose to be the only targets if the shooting starts."

At Kallispell, Montana, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), an outspoken opponent of administration foreign policies, charged in an address last night that the President in his speech "in effect said to the people of the United States: 'I am going to take you into a shooting war as far as the navy is concerned, without submitting the question to congress.'"

Building is Simple

The building of a home is a simple and thoroughly enjoyable experience. You can pick out the home you want from plans supplied by your contractor, or submit crude drawings to an architect. Your architect is a genius at catching on to what you mean. Actual building takes very little time. Your monthly payments will amount to no more than you previously paid for rent. "It's a feeling," as one new homeowner put it, "well worth telling folks about." Whoever said "A Man's Home Is His Castle," certainly knew what he was talking about.

JAPAN POLITICAL LEADER TALKS WAR

TOKYO, Sept. 13.—Seigo Nakano, told a great mass meeting today extreme nationalist political leader, that Japan is prepared to fight to the last man in the event she cannot reach a settlement of her differences with the United States through diplomatic channels.

Nakano, whose speech was advertised as a reply to the Roosevelt-Churchill "Atlantic charter," discounted the possibility of a Japanese rapprochement with the United States and Britain because, he said, their positions are fundamentally opposed.

Tokyo newspapers reported Nakano's speech briefly, playing it down, and Domei news agency broadcast also tended to minimize it. Only one paper, Chugai, carried a short story on page one, quoting Nakano as saying later that "America is using peace offensive tactics, sometimes threatening Japan, while building an iron ring around her which is not iron but only wooden planks."

Nakano, head of the reactionary Shokoku political group, warned that Japan "must be vigilant lest prolongation of negotiations in Washington eliminate her chance to expand southward."

Japanese newspapers, meanwhile, continued to comment on President Roosevelt's "shoot first" broadcast, virtually all interpreting it to mean the United States was closer to war with Germany. All assailed the President's position on freedom of the seas.
